

The State of Skin Health – A Conversation with Skin Leaders

July 2017

Our skin reveals so much about us and how we live our lives. Skin is essential to patient vitality and critical for good health. So why is skin often overlooked within healthcare today?

Join a panel of global skin experts including Dimitri Beeckman, Kim Leblanc and Denise Nix for a three-part series as they explore their passion, advocacy and leadership around skin health and why skin integrity should be a priority in patient care.
